

Purpose of the questions:

The problems ask whether an energy balance equation can be derived, and whether a solution to a simple transient heat transfer equation in the cylindrical system can be derived.